

Web Softwares

Contributed by Liang Chen

I have written a lot of softwares for websites, like news system, statistics, download manager, and extension for other softwares.

The languages I use are ASP, PHP, CGI with the database: Microsoft Access & Mysql.

However, you can see some of my recent extensions for MediaWiki, a software used by Wikipedia and my Website: I don't Like Exams . These extensions are all written in PHP.

1. Google Custom Search Engine Extension
2. Add Article to Category
3. Ultimate Search Extension for MediaWiki (not published), however, you can use it on my website: I don't Like Exams.
